

Ride the Train to the Grand Canyon and Back

During our stayover day in Williams, Arizona we will ride the train to the Grand Canyon in the morning (about 3 hours). We will then have time to visit the south rim of the Canyon (about 4 hours). We return to Williams by train in the late afternoon. There might be an option to ride your bike to the Canyon in the morning (62 miles) and then ride the train back to Williams with your bike depending on cargo space.
